Political critics are now taking Governor Ferguson to task for the liberal pardon policy of the administration. Hope of freedom and liberty have flared up in the hearts of deserving convicts since the Fergusons came into office and upon the campaign promise to restore the board of pardons and to exercise a liberal pardon policy the governor has done nothing not previously confided to the people. Under the administration of Pat Neff the moralist, deserving convicts were given no hope of freedom and no mercy was shown. The reform purpose of the penal system was forgotten for four years and the most cruel and unjust policy of all time was exercised. To say that the pardoning power is being abused may in some instances be sustained by facts but in general the criticism is unfounded and unjust. Clemency is the haven of all men. Without it there is neither spiritual or temporal hopes. It is better to lead them out and upward by the good grace of mercy than to send them to hell. In the great economy of human society there are crimes for which no penal servitude can expiate. "The way of the transgressor is hard" we read. How shall we judge? Pilate denied clemency to the Savior of mankind and is rebuked for all time among men. But how sweet the quality of mercy! "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Good rains have fallen. The song of industry is a welcome refrain. Prospects have been restored and the promise is good for crops. Drouth that for nearly a year has made agricultural conditions doubtful has been broken and business has been heightened to normal sway and all is well with the world again. Prosperity is common ground upon which all stand with uniform agreement. Benefits accrue to all alike. Let us go forward.

Purchase of the Southern Pipeline Corporation by the Owens Refining Company of Cameron insures preservation of local resources and the maximum of benefits to Milam county from the local oil fields. In this merger the advantage is decidely in favor of Cameron insuring for this city control of the benefits of the field and rebukes the effort to stifle the refining industry at Minerva. Let's keep our resources intact and their benefits free form dissolution.

Face to face with the mail order evil is the way Earl O. Lehman of Toledo, Ohio, past president of the national association of men's apparel clubs, states the problem of local merchandising in a talk to the meeting in Dallas Tuesday. Here is significant question Mr. Lehman asks: "What is a mystery to me is why the mail order house can get closer to the customer than you who live in the same community with the consumer." Briefly stated this question points to the failure on the part of the local merchants to put forth the effort necessary to curb the mail order evil. Cultivating the community as a field of merchandise to any degree of success depends upon attracting the consumer as Mr. Lehman points out in his significant question. We hear much about the mail order evil. Newspapers that are loyal to the community in which they endure bear in a large measure the responsibility for the fight to preserve local industry. If we have come to the place in our commercial life, and of that there seems little doubt, when it is a contest of salesmanship between the mail order house and the local merchant, the newspaper can help as no other agency. It is not only a distinct adgantage to have the press fight for the interests of the merchants against the mail order evil, but IT PAYS TO AVERTISE.

The Loyal Woman's Council met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. James Neinast with fifteen members present. Mrs. Ray Burke led the lesson study on Foreign Missions and most of the members present took some part in the discussion. Mrs. Neinast served a dainty refreshment course.

BOND AND PAVING LAW PROPOSALS ARE DEFEATED

Soaking Rains Worth Millions To Milam County

NEW BANK TO OPEN IN CAMERON ON SATURDAY MAY 9TH

MAJORITIES AGAINST BONDS OVERWHELMING

PEOPLE VOTE TO CUT EXPENDITURE IN CITY AND DEFEAT ALL ISSUES.

Majorities against the bonds and the general paving law amounting to landslides were returned in the voting Tuesday when the election was held to vote bonds for refunding and to extend the paving.

It was a decisive vote on every issue, the people defeating all proposals of city council by majorities ranging approximately 2 to 1 and over 3 to 1 on the three issues involved in the election.

A total of 623 votes were polled. The following final tabulation will show the vote:

$75.000 Refunding Bonds—

For the Bonds	221
Against the Bonds	382
Majority Against	161

General Paving Law—

For the Paving Law	190
Against the Paving Law	389
Majority Against	199

$50,000 Paving Bonds—

For the Bonds	150
Against the Bonds	441
Majority Against	291

The vote polled exceeded all previous bond elections during the past six years. This is accounted for in the fact that the question involved had been discussed in print and upon the street and the people were thoroughly aroused as to the merit of the issues for and against. While the vote polled does not represent the strength of the city voters and tax payers the vote is considered good. It is conceded that if the full strength of vote had been polled the majorities against the issues would have been much larger.

The city council in a series of newspaper articles and in circulars had given the people its reasons for asking the passage of the bonds and the paving law. On the other hand those opposed to the bonds and the paving law had addressed the people calling attention to their views upon the issues so that the people were thoroughly familiar with the questions. The victory therefore is the more satisfactory in that it represents beyond question the sentiment of the people.

The first appeal to the people was a financial statement by R. R. Brown as city treasurer in which the financial condition of the city was shown. This was followed by another statement signed by all members of the council except H. M. Hefley, alderman, in which an appeal was made to the people. This document was a reproduction of a speech made by O. M. Smith, chairman of the finarce committee for the city, before the Lions Club. On Monday a circular making an eleventh hour appeal to the people was issued by the council and signed by all except H. M. Hefley. More than 30 citizens also signed the circular as an endorsement.

Chief among the reasons advanced by opponents of the measures was the charge that the city has no taxing power to retire bonds because only 14c remains for use under the statement of Mr. Brown. This was supported by a ruling from the attorney general submitted by Giles L. Avriett in which it was shown that the attorney general would not approve bonds with insufficient tax rate.

The polls opened at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. Voting was light up to the noon hour. In the afternoon voting increased and one vote was cast less than a minute before closing time.

Alex Triggs was manager of the election, assisted by Preston Graves, J. C. Tucker and Pete Kunz. Within 30 minutes after the polls had closed the result was announced.

No Mother Will Die Without Her Boy Is Pardon Defense Plea

Austin, April 28.—In an official statement addressed to "the people of Texas," Governor Miram A. Ferguson defended her record in connection with the granting of pardons and invites "the closest investigation of my pardon record."

The Governor declared that if those who are criticising her would take the time "to go to the public records instead of criticising me through some previous personal grudge they would have found that from Jan. 21, 1925, when I took office, to April 25, I have issued 263 pardon proclamations."

This is the text of Governor Ferguson's statement:

"On the twenty-first of January I entered upon my duties as Governor of the State and have sought to the best of my ability to perform the duties of the office as my God and my conscious has given me power to determine.

"It appears, however, that certain people did not want to accord to me good faith or honesty of purpose and they are spending their time criticising me in public and through the newspapers for following a liberal pardon poilcy to the unfortunate convicts in the penitentiary. Certain newspapers which were unfriendly to me in the campaign have cititicised me and seized upon what they think is a popular reason to criticise me.

"I therefore deem it necessary to make this statement of the facts concerning my pardon record. Not so much because I expect to please a certain part of our citizenship, but simply because the public are entitled tothe facts. My critics and the newspapers seem to have overlooked the controlling reason that should prevail in the discussion of anybody's pardon records. It seems like that a certain part of the public are never satisfied. Governor Neff was criticised for issuing too few pardons. I am being criticised because they say I issue too many pardons.

"In one breath they viciously assail me because I refuse to commute a death sentence to life imprisonment in a noted case in Dallas county, and they say that I have a heart of stone. In the next breath this same crowd are saying that I am too liberal and am granting too many pardons.

"In this noted Dallas county case they argued that I should commute the sentence to life imprisonment because the man who had been convicted of murder had five children, and when I refused to accede to their request they made up a large purse in the way of a donation to these children.

"I am glad they did so, but in this connection I want to call attention to the fact that the murdered man also had some children, and yet this crowd who are howling against me so much have not seen fit to give the children of the murdered man a thin dime. In other fords these self appointed guardians of the public conscience want to lay a premium on

RAINFALL GENERAL OVER COUNTY; FARMS SAVED

DROUTH BROKEN AND BUSINESS RESTORED TO NORMAL CHANNELS.

Soaking rains ranging in precipitation from two to three inches fell over Milam county Sunday night and Tuesday and Tuesday night, according to reports received up to Thursday morning when clouds hanging low indicated further rain.

In the Buckhelts and Ad Hall communities heavy rains were reported Tuesday morning as well as in the Thorndale and San Gabriel country and South of Cameron in the river bottom lands.

The black land belt west and north of Cameron previously receiving rainfall were again soaked Wednesday and Thursday and season will bring up all crops and advance the plant to a state of approximate maturity.

In the Rockdale section heavy rains fell and in the Gause and Maysfield sections also rain has fallen.

Prospects are bright and business has been restored to proper channels and the farmers are eager to begin their work and to make good crops. Business depression caused by the drouth has been dispelled and conditions are normal once more.

MAYOR DAVIS ISSUES STATEMENT ON ELECTION

SAYS CITY WILL ACCEPT VERDICT OF PEOPLE AND MAKE THE BEST OF IT.

Mayor Judd G. Davis following the election on Tuesday in which all bond issues and paving law proposals sponsored by the city council were defeated, issued the following post election statement:

"The public expression on the issues submitted at the City Election on Tuesday of this week was decisive; and it shall be the policy of the City Administration to respect and make the best of this expression of the public will.

"When I was elected Mayor of the City, one year ago, the public debt represented by bonds, warrants and promissory notes, aggregated $328,460.35, $124,460.35 thereof bearing interest at or above the rate of 7 1-4 per cent per annum. As a matter of economy it occurred to me that the indebtedness bearing a high rate of interest should be cancelled as early as practicable; and, as Mayor of the City, I was therefore hopeful that the issue as to the 5 1-4 per cent bonds the first proposition on the ticket Tuesday, would carry, in order that the 7 1-4 per cent warrants could be retired and the City saved 2 per cent per annum on some $75,000. However, during the last six months the above mentioned indebtedness has been reduced by $29,000 and, though having to pay a high rate of interest, it is hoped that, by strict economy, the City can meet its obligations without increasing the tax rate. And to this end I earnestly ask, in behalf of the present Administration, the hearty co-operation of the citizenship of Cameron.

JUDD G. DAVIS,
Mayor.

LITERARY MEETING FOR DISTRICT AT CALVERT

YOE HIGH STUDENTS COMPETE FOR LITERARY HONORS.

A large Cameron crowd motored to Calvert Friday night to witness the Literary events which were held there. The most important events were debating and declaming.

The Yoe Hi declamers had won over many excellent contestants in the county meets.

The finals in debate were held first.

The Thorndale girl debators, who we considered especially strong, as they had had a hard battle and won against Yoe Hi debators, carried off District honors.

Yoe Hi was especially interested in declamation.

Francis Hause represented Cameron in Girl's declamation and Lester Williams in Boy's declaming. Much of the success of our declamers in due to Miss Henderson's and Miss Moore's efficient coaching.

The deliverance of both speakers was exceedingly good. The judges remarked that both were among the very best speakers in the district. Many visitors expressed their delight at hearing the Cameron declamers. Unfortunately, however, Cameron did not win a first place in the meet. First place for the girls went to the representatives of Fairfield, second place went to Calvert, third place to Rockdale. First place for the boys went to the representatives of Wortham.

Under the Capitol Dome

By J. G. Burr, Austin, Texas.

It took ten minutes to decide under what heading to write this letter with the above result. People write variously, somethimes under difficulties. Omar underneath the bough was cherished and we are told on every hand to "say it with flowers."

Riding into Dallas on an early train the window view shows the country carpeted with green, a relief to the eye parched with desert to the southward. Dallas hotels are full with one or two conventions of minor size in session. Travel is brisk and the writer himself is forming the travel habit. On to Fort Worth arriving there a few minutes after a street duel in which two were killed and two wounded. Glad they got it over before my arrival. I do not dote on deuls. Marital infelicity was at the bottom. It wasn't the enternal triangle, nor a quadrangle, just an ordinary wrangle with a fatal ending.

Fort Worth is distinguished as the place "where the west begins" and all those nice things that some writer had to say about the west which by poetic license is no longer wild. Many killing occur almost daily in Fort Worth but they are confined to the packing houses of Swift and Armour which employ about 5,000 persons, making the city an industrial rival of Houston. It is the home of ham an' eggs and a certain famous Cook, Dr. Frederick A. Cook who is now dealing out pills to prisoners at Leavenworth. It is also the home of Dr. Norris who is trying to keep the rest of the people out of prison and the othter bad place of nameless horrors. With such facilities for keeping it on the map it is unnecessary to locate Fort Worth as being 50 miles west of Dallas. Try it once at your peril. To make them smile just say Dallas is located 50 miles east of Fort Worth. There's nothing like applause to stir civic pride, so let us admit that Fort Worth is a charming place. Applause would stimulate any one. (This is a hint to my audience.) The other day one of my subscribers noticed a little sag in the quality of these letters and with that keen insight into my nature he threw up his hat, gave three cheers, and said: "You're doin' fine old chap—keep it up." You may have noted the effect already in the easy assurance with which these lines are rolling along. There is an awful vacuity about writing for people that you never see, leaving you to wonder if they are attentive or asleep, indifferent or indignant. When we buy headwear we get a fit if it suits, but in clothing our thoughts for the reader he has a fit if it doesn't suit.

Speaking of attentiveness, Oscar Seagle, the famous baritone, gave a program at Dallas last week which, of course, was a masterful production. A local morning paper writing of the affair mentioned his easy stage presence and delightful informality, giving as an instance the passing of a ten ton truck at which the singer paused a moment, smiled and proceeded unperturbed. That reporter told a whopper. He lied like a gentleman and it goes to show that George Washington would have been a dismal failure in Dallas journalism. I'm not criticising Mr. Seagle—he was correctly represented—it was the truck that misrepresented. Never the less my hat is off to the rich imagination of that reporter, but the world shall know the facts, of course sub rosa as per caption. Seagle began a song, paused, signalled the accompanist to stop. He looked confused, then smiled sweetly and said: "You may wonder why I would forget that song. Two ladies over there, (pointing with his finger) were holding a conversation and you know my curosity was aroused. I can't get over curiosity and I wondered what they were talking about." Then in the dead silence he smiled sweetly at the ladies and said simply "I'm sorry," and the song was resumed. The reporter's courtesy was Chesterfieldian but he did exaggerate the noise the ladies were making—ten ton truck!

A GOOD NAME.

In Waco chatting with Fred Robinson of the Times Herald. He's interested in highways and highwaymen. He will visit Autsin on the 27th inst., in conference with the highway commission. The Pat Neff highway has been re-named the Jeff Davis highway by the new commissioners. Mr. Robinson does not object to the name Jeff Davis but thinks that other considerations than patriotism should govern the naming of a road. He wants it called the Meridian Highway because it connects Canada with the City of Mexico through the center of the continent and the English word meridian closely resembles the Spanish word meridiano which describes the road throughout its length by the same name, making it easier for travelers to hold their course. This highway enters Texas at Laredo, passes through San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Fort Worth and Ringgold east of Wichita Falls.

IZAAK WALTON MEET.

The Izaak Walton League will hold a convention at Brady June 15 and 16 with trap shooting and plenty of additional money, none but Waltonians participating. Sportsmen throughout the state will attend the celebrities including former Governor James E. Ferguson and Turner Hubby, State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner. Brady will greet the guests with western warmth. The new game preserve in that vicinity in process of being acquired by the state doubtless drew the convention idea for that place. "Farmer Jim" is deeply interested in conservation of game and Governor Miriam A. Ferguson recently sent out a chatty editorial on the protection and uses of birds. As for Hubby, well, he just lives conservation from every angle.

CITY COUNCIL IS THANKFUL TO ALL

Rogers, Rockdale, Temple, Belton Thanked—Fire Chief, Citizens and Farmers Remembered

The City Council at its meeting Wednesday morning passed the following resolutions by a unanimous vote:

Be It Resolved by the City Council of the City of Cameron that we deeply appreciately the prompt, generous and timely assistance rendered our city in its hour of need Tuesday, April 21st by the Fire Departments of our neighbor cities of Rockdale, Rogers, Temple and Belton, when a most destructive and disastrous fire was raging which looked as if it might take a tremendous toll of business and residential property before it could possibly be brought under control. We wish to express to them our great thanks and gratitude and assurance that if at any time in the future they might have need of our services in a similar capacity or in any other manner we will gladly and eagerly respond to their call.

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be given our local papers for publication, copies sent to the Fire Departments of Rockdale, Rogers, Temple and Belton, and a copy be spread on the minutes of the City Council.

Be It Resolved by the City Council of the City of Cameron that we express our thanks to our faithful, loyal and ever-ready Fire Chief, Monta Thomas, and Truck Driver Frank Richter and Assistant Driver Pete Kuntz and the entire Fire Department of our City for their valiant and effective efforts in fighting the fire of Tuesday, April 21st. We desire to go on record as being deeply appreciative and grateful for their fine spirit of loyalty and unselfish devotion to the Fire Department which they serve voluntarily and without price, and for the valorious manner in which they respond to every call to service day and night.

Be It Farther Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be given to our local papers for publication, a copy sent to the Fire Department and a copy spread upon the minutes of the City Council.

Be It Resolved by the City Council of the City of Cameron, that we take this opportunity to express our thanks to all of the citizens and to our farmer friends who live in the communities near us who responded to the needs of our people in assisting them in their time of distress Tuesday, April 21st, when fire was threatening their homes and places of business. It demonstrates again the fact of the fundamental goodness of people, their spirit of good will and neighborliness and the desire to help in time of distress.

BILIOUSNESS

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form.

The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, past 80, living at West Graham, Va., says:

"For years I had been suffering with my liver. Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief.

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness.

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver.

Governor Makes Statement

Austin, Texas, April 28.—A strong denunciation of persons, organizations and newspapers that have criticised the governor's pardoning policy, defense of the policy and notice that a large number of additional pardons will be issued, were made in a statement issued by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson this afternoon.

"It seems that a certain part of the public are never satisfied," she said. "Governor Neff was criticised for issuing too few pardons: I am being criticised because they say I issue too many. In one breath they viciously assail me because I refuse to commute a death sentence to life imprisonment. In a noted case in Dallas county (the Sidney Welk case) and say I have a heart of stone. In the next breath this same crowd are saying that I am too liberal and am granting too many pardons."

Governor Ferguson "served notice" on her critics that no dying mother "shall ever plead in vain for a chance to again see the wayward, unfortunate son before death shall claim her into eternity," when application for pardons are made for this reason. "Yes, I am going to continue it no matter who kicks or howls," she said.

Mrs. Ferguson defended her policy of listening to the recommendations of the judges and attorneys who convicted the convicts when pardons are granted. She asserted they are best qualified to know the worthiness of the application. Of the pardons granted, 118 were recommended by the judges, juries and prosecuting attorneys, she said.

"Ten of the prisoners were pardoned because of their bad physical condition and in order that the public may know my full intention I want to say now that in the next thirty days I expect to pardon some 50 or 75 prisoners who are now afflicted with consumption and are in the last stages of tuberculosis," she said.

"The doctors say most of them cannot live but a short time and I am going to pardon them out and let them die at home among friends.

"Again, I want to repeat that is is not a question of how many pardons were issued, but is the reason for the issuance of each pardon, and I invite the Methodist organizations of the Panhandle, who have condemned me, and the W. C. T. U. of San Antonio, who have condemned me, to come to Austin and I will gladly present them the record and the reasons which have controlled me in the pardons of the unfortunate convicts."

WAR BETWEEN PEDDLER AND MERCHANT IS SEEN

WARNING TO RETAILERS GIVEN AT DALLAS MEETNG—MAIL ORDER EVIL.

Dallas, Texas, April 28.—A national war between retail clothiers and house to house selling firms was predicted here today by Earl O. Lehman of Toledo, Ohio, past president of the national association of men's apparel clubs speaking at a joint convention of the Texas Retail Clothiers and Furnishers association and the men's apparel club of Texas.

A national organization has been formed by the direct sellers, or house to house sellers, said Mr. Lehman, the principal speaker of today's session and urged the retailers also to form a national organization to combat the activities of those considered enemies of the retail merchant.

"The direct sellers are endeavoring to demoralize the institute you represent and the institution which manufactures the goods you sell," he declared. "What is a mystery to me is why the mail order house can get closer to the customer than you who live in the same community with the customer. The time has come for us to have a national organization to back the retailer against the mail order house. The direct selling people have such a national orgmization. They are prepared to fight you and especially to fight any legislation you may propose to hamper their activities."

The speaker told his audience that they could no longer sit in their stores and wait for the customers to come in. Retailers, he declared, must go out and get their customers by "projective" salesmanship and get in personal contact the same as the house to house seller does.

"You men in the smaller towns, with the coming of the good roads and cheaper automobile, you veritably have to sleep with your customers if it is necessary to get close to them," he said.

He urged common action among retailers, especially after the convention, taking away the ideas propounded in the meeting.

One of the things which Mr. Lehman especially advocated for the retailer was the style appeal to the man of forty and over.

"The man of forty is beginning to slip," he said, "while his wife dabs on a little rouge and perks up, looking like a million dollars as she goes down the street, the old boy looks ready for the junk heap. He is the one you must reach with your styles. You must make him know he can still look young. He comes set in his ideas at that age. He becomes negative in his attitude, and it is up to you clothiers to bring him out and make him young."

He pointed out that clothing is an inanimate thing and must be made animate in advertisements. The retailer, he said, must be the style doctor of the community, he must dress his trade as it should be dressed

"People like the automobile, which is animate and moving, and other things that bring them pleasure," said the speaker. "Why the automobile people have mortgaged the earning power of the wage earner for three years in advance, and sell him life and accident insurance so he can still keep up his payments even if he is sick or hurt. What is to become of us clothiers if we don't wake up and make our business animate too?"

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP CAMERON.

"I hated cooking because all I ate turned sour and formed gas. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I took Adlerika." Unless due to deep-seated causes, Adlerika helps any case gas on the stomach in a surprisingly QUICK time. It is a wonderful remedy to use for constipation—it often works in one hour and never gripes.

FOREIGN MISSIONS SHOW LARGE RESULTS IN PAST TEN YEARS UNDER DR. LOVE.

TAKE OFFERINGS IN APRIL

Every Church and Individual Will Be Asked to Share In Supporting Enlarged Program.—All Interests Will Be Pushed.

No department of Southern Baptist work has shown greater progress in recent years than that of foreign missions.

Dr. J. F. Love, corresponding secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, located at Richmond, Va., is just completing ten years of service in that capacity, and the survey conducted by Dr. Alldredge shows that during that time the receipts of the board have been $16,149,994.64, whereas the receipts for the entire 78 years of the board's history have been $24,915,704.86, showing that two-thirds of the total receipts of the board since its organization in 1845 have come in during Dr. Love's administration.

DR. J. F. LOVE
Secretary Baptist Foreign Mission Board

Results on Foreign Fields Large

Indicating the results which these larger receipts have made possible on the foreign fields, it is pointed out that whereas the Foreign Mission Board was operating in only seven countries ten years ago, it is now at work in seventeen countries, representing Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America. In that brief period of time the number of foreign churches has grown from 380 to 1905, the number of mission stations other than churches from 43 to 308, number of baptisms per year from 5,252 to 12,856, members of the churches from 29,991 to 111,872, number of houses of worship from 248 to 819, number of Sunday schools from 542 to 1,511, pupils enrolled in the Sunday schools from 22,022 to 76,504, contributions by the foreign churches from $91,159.69 per year to $444,568, number of American missionaries on the field from 278 to 544, number of native Christian workers employed from 634 to 2,494, number of mission residences owned by the board from 66 to 129, number of mission schools from 339 to 860, number of pupils in these schools from 339 to 860, number of pupils in those schools from which 50 per cent of all the converts won by the missionaries come, from 9,376 to 35,106, number of American medical missionaries employed from 12 to 19 and number of medical treatments given per year from 74,829 to 294,422.

So extensive has become the foreign mission work, as well as that of home missions, state missions, Christian [illegible] has come to all these interests into one general program known as the 1925 Program of Southern Baptists, and all the 25,000 local white Baptist churches of the South are being asked to put on a budget that will adequately provide for all these causes, the budget to be raised through an every-member canvass of the churches every year.

Take Special Offerings in April

Inasmuch as a number of the churches have not yet completed their canvass and many churches which put it on did not enlist every member, the Headquarters Committee of the 1925 Program, in co-operation with the various state secretaries, is asking that Sunday, April 19, be observed as a day of special offerings in the churches for all the objects embraced in this general Program. Where a church holds its regular services on some other Sunday than April 19, that congregation is asked to observe the day of its regular worship with special offerings for these causes. By reason of the recent rapid expansion of all the general causes of the denomination, and to enable the boards and other agencies to discharge their heavy obligations, an effort is being made to raise a minimum of $4,000,000 in cash during the first four months of 1925. It is with a view to enlisting as nearly as possible every one of the 3,500,000 white Baptists of the South in this undertaking that the special offerings for the month of April were suggested.

PROCLAMATION.

CAMERON BAND WINS HONORS AT CORSICANA

CITY PROUD OF ACHIEVEMENTS OF ITS MUSIC MAKERS—WIN FIRST PLACE.

Sunday, March 19, all members of the Cameron Band drank an Orange Crush, got their suits and instruments and left for Corsicana. The object of the trip was, not to compete against other bands for a prize, but to win that prize. Sunday night they appeared in the Methodist church of Corsicana in full uniform. Monday evening when they appeared the crowd was astounded at the sight of the Cameron band. All that were present, especially the ladies, said that the uniforms were the best ever seen in Corsicana. They consisted of white caps with golden bands, dark blue capes with golden lining, white breaches, and white shoes.

When the band played the entire crowd was motionless. However directly after it finished there was such cheering as no other band got. Of course the decision was unanimously in favor of the Cameron Band. The prize consisted of ($400) four hundred dollars in cash and a Gold Plated trumpet worth one hundred sixty dollars ($160.)

The Cameron Band was the smallest band in the contest, and is only five years old and had to compete against bands that were from 5 to 25 years old.

Tuesday a. m. the Cameron Band played at the State Orphans Home and at the Odd Fellows Orphan Home. Tuesday p. m. they furnished music for the opening game of the Texas Association of Base Ball. The game was between Corsicana and Terrell and Corsicana won with a score of 4 to 0. Tuesday night the Cameron Band played at the Corsicana High School. A tremendous amount of applause was received and as a result they had to play several encores.

The band consists of: Mr. Farleigh, Mr. Hendrichsen, Baby Hendrichsen, Joe Havlik, Jake Posey, Clarence Posey, Don Slocomb, Guy Slocomb, Henry Havlik, L. Havlik, Buddy Wilson, Wallace Hopkins, S. Sutter, Ben Salach, Lloyd Mitchell, Jim Chadwick, Frank Dusek, W. B. Peoples, Eugene Matula, Lester Williams, Nathan McGehee and V. A. Pylant.

Mr. Farleigh is director of the Cameron Band and had it not been for his patient, continual work we could not have accomplished what we have done. It is to him the Cameron Band owes its success. In behalf of the Yoe High School the Hi-Life wishes to thank him for his diligent services, and also to say that never has a better band director been to Cameron. We hope that he will be with us for many years to come and that the band continues to prosper, in the future under his teachings, as it has in the past.

1925 BEST YEAR IN YOE ATHLETIC HISTORY

MANY HONORS COME TO CAMRON YOEMEN IN SEASON OF PLAY.

This year has been one of the most successful in the athletic history of Yoe Hi. First, we came nearer to winning the district championship in foot ball championship (both girls and boys) and placed second at the district basket ball meen. Then came the greatest success of the season, Yoe High's victory at the District terscholastic Track and Field meet, which was held at Calvert, April 17-18. A technical difficulty has arisen since the meet, the details are as follows: n the mile run, the second place winner of Mexia was disqualified on the turn by a report of one of the turn guards. The disqualification was officially recognized and the Cameron third place winner took second place with the resulting points When the meet was over. it was found that Cameron had 28 points and Mexia had 26. Had the Mexia man not been disqualified, Mexia would have wont the meet, so the Mexia coach raised a protest and as a result the case has been taken up by the athletic director at Austin. Nothing definite has yet been decided on either side.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Decayed Body White Man Found; Udentity Unknown

Bartlett, Texas, April 28.—The decayed body of a white man, that had been dead for apparently four or five months was fished from Donohoe creek about seven miles northeast of Bartlett Monday. A Mexican who discovered the body partly imbedded in a drift that fell from the bank into the water, reported his find to officers here.

Parts of the body had been burned with the debris of the drift. The skull was partly burned.

Indications of a blow on the head, sufficiently powerful to fracture the skull, were found, leading officers to the belief that the man was the victim of a murder.

Marshal Burns brought all he could find of the body to town. Physicians here say that it is that of a white man who was about six feet tall and of middle age. But little of the clothing was found; a small part of the trousers, however, matches materials in trousers people near had bought from a mail order house.

Who the man was or where he came from officers are at a loss even to conjecture. It is agreed that he was evidently a stranger here, possibly being brought here by some one familiar with the country for disposal It is also agreed that the body could not have been brought here by flood water of the creek, for there has not been enough rain in the last six or eight months to have raised the creek sufficiently to have carried him here.

WORK OF FIREMEN IN BIG BLAZE IS PRAISED

JETER LUMBER CO. AND F. A. MAREK $100 GIVE EACH TO FIRE BOYS.

That the work of the firemen shold not go unrewarded both in praise and substantial financial gifts should not go unrewarded both in is proven by the gift this week of $100 each from the Jeter Lumber Company and the Exchange Furniture Company.

In a letter to Monta Thomas, chief of the department, each of the above firms praised the work of the men and enclosed their checks.

More than any others among our citizenship, the firemen deserve credit and praise for their work. They not only work for the safety of property but risk their lives in defense of it in times of stress and for which they receive no comepensation.

FORCING LOWER TAXES

Gerard B. Winston, Undersecretary of the Treasury in the American Bankers Association Journal says, "The burden of taxes must be lightened. Per capita Federal taxes rose from $32 in 1918 to $54 in 1920; then commenced to drop, and have been successively $45, $32, $28, $29 in the last four fiscal years. It is estimated that for the next fiscal year the figure will be about $27. With the states and municipalities the opposite tendency is disclosed. In 1918 their per capita tax was something over $20. In the next four years it rose to $27, $30, $36, $38, and later figures will undoubtedly show further increases."

He says of excessive death taxes that "examples have been cited of how the states and Federal government, under existing laws, can take more than 100 per cent of an estate If Federal and state governments take more than the particular source of taxation can stand, it will ultimately destroy all revenue from that source. After a man has provided for the reasonable requirements of living, the impetus to further production is largely the desire to leave one's family well provided for. So long as the individual feels that he can pay the tax and still leave an estate to his family, he will increase his efforts; but a man will not seek to build up a large fortune just to have it taken away from his family at his death."

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS WITH HEADLINERS

First Two Days Important.

Those who stay away from Chautauqua the opening day this year, believing the program to be unimportant, are in for a big disappointment.

As a matter of fact, some of the biggest features are on the first two days.

On this occasion the famous Cathedral Choir, composed of an extraordinary company of singers, will give a program of rare beauty.

This great organization made a continental tour last year, visiting some of the largest cities of America. At every place its concert was an enthusiastic success.

Its second program is largely popular and operatic in character. It is given on the first night, and followed by one of the humorous offerings of the program. This is in the nature of a lecture by Herbert Leon Cope, the greatest humorist, it is said, since Bill Nye.

With Burns of the Mountains the second afternoon, and a great farce-comedy, "GIVE AND TAKE," the second night, it must be seen very readily that the first two days are of great importance.

The only sensible way is to buy season tickets of the local committee. The cost of attending is less than half what it would amount to if you purchase single admission tickets. Admissions run all the way from fifty cents to one dollar for each entertainment. Besides, season tickets are transferable in the owner's family, and the Chautauqua Committee has a limited number for sale.

HON. CHARLES W. BRYAN,
Former Governor of Nebraska, at Chautauqua.

BURNS OF THE MOUNTAINS

To Tell Thrilling Story of Kentucky Feuds—Noted President of Oneida Institute to Lecture Here.

It required a valiant and red-blooded man to stem the tide of bloodshed and hatred in the Kentucky Mountain Fueds.

Such a man was James A. Burns, known everywhere as "Burns of the Mountains."

The story of the Cemberland Mountain feudists is as thrilling as any written by Sir Walter Scott.

Down there in the mountains where there were no roads and no schools, there lived a race of people who had remained practically unchanged since the days of Daniel Boone. "They were not poor whites." They had in their veins some of the best blood of the old Scotch Highlands. They lived there in a state of arrested development, each man a law unto himself, each man fighting for his own rights.

It is not strange that terrible fueds plunged the country into bloodshed.

Then came Burns, the son of a hard-shelled Baptist Minister. Burns had been away to school. He felt that these fueds were all wrong.

The story of how he went about it to bring an end to the fueds and to establish a school known as the Oneida Institute, where the boys and girls of the mountains are educated in the fine things of life instead of in the best way to pump a rifle,—all this is told by Burns, the founder and president of the Oneida Institute, on the afternoon of the second day of the Chautauqua.

An amazing musical sensation brought to this country by Redpath-Horner for Chautauqua.

GUATEMALAN BAND

Comes Direct to Chautauqua.

It is a generally accepted fact that a brass band comprises the ultimate in thrill for an American audience. And, until you have heard a company of native Guatemalans play their native Marimbaphone, you will probably vote in favor of the brass band. But after one concert on the Marimba you will change your mind.

The Marimbaphone in question is not the American product, nor can Americans play the Marimba as do the Guatemalans. So, even if you have heard one or two Americans play an American Marimbaphone you have no conception of what seven or eight Guatemalans can do playing a Guatemalan Marimbaphone.

The success of these various companies has led Mr. Horner, President of Redpath-Horner Chautauquas, to negotiate with the National Marimba Band of Guatemala towards bringing them to America for a tour of his Premier Circuit.

Eventually Mr. Horner made a trip to Mexico City, where through the offices of Dr. Edwardo Aguirre Velasquez, Guatemalan Minister to Mexico, he closed a contract for the Premier Chautauqua tour of the National Marimba Band of Guatemala.

The expense of bringing such an organization to the United States is of course considerable. It is an evidence however of the thought and care, to say nothing of the expense, that is given towards making the Premier Program the most distinctive, attractive and generally satisfactory institution of its kind in America.

The cities on the Premier Circuit this year will have an opportunity of hearing a spectacular feature before it is secured by any of the other great amusement enterprises in this country, or could be presented in any of the great cities in the East or central West.

JUNIOR CLASS MEMBERS WIN AT A. & M. MEET

ED. THOMPSON VICTOR IN 880 YARD DASH AT COLLEGE STATION MEET.

The Junior class of Yoe High is proud of one of it's members, Ed. Thompson, who won first place in the 880 yard run at the thirteenth annual A. & M. Invitation Meet at College Statios. Ed. is a promising athlete and is a good student. He was the only one from Yoe High to win a first place and in addition to this he tied for third place in the pole vault, making a total of 6 1-2 points in the meet.

Clarence Sapp won second place in the broad jump, making a leap of 21 ft. 9 1-4 inches. His first jump measured 21 ft. 6 inchese and he was in a fair way of winning first place on this until Woolridge, a Bryan St. Hi product of Dallas jumped 21 ft. 9 3-4 inches on his last jump. Sapp then made one more leap and jumped 21 ft. 9 1-2 inches. Sapp is an all round track man, being high point man in the county meet. Not only is he ranked as being the best track man but it is said that he is the "meanest man" in school. Sapp totaled 4 points in the meet, making a total of 10 1-2 points for Yoe High.

Bryan Street High school won the team and individual honors in the meet, making a total of 21 1-2 points. Teague of Bryan Street Hi was the high individual with a total of 10 1-4 points.

The javelin throwing of Hines of Houston High was the sensation of the meet. The distance for the throw was 175 ft. 2 in. Hines holds the World's Interscholastic record in the Javelin throw. He is a promising youngster in this event and may be a contestant for Worlds Record in the future.

YOEMEN WIN FROM THE STRONG BRENHAM TEAM

FIRST BALL GAME OF THE SEASON WON BY CAMERON TEAM.

On San Jacinto day, Cameron won the greatest horsehide battle of the season by defeating the Brenham nine. The Badgers have not been defeated officially this year. The Yoemen started the game off right by making one run in the first inning. They held the lead throughout the first four innings in which they added another tally to the score. In the sixth inning the first Badger man crossed the plate. Tindall pitched an excellent game for six innings, when he was replaced by Rice. There were three men on and no outs. Rice struck two men out which saved the game. There was brilliant playing throughout the remainder of the game the Yoemen won by the close score as follows:

Cameron, 4 runs, 8 hits, 6 errors.
Brenham, 3 runs, 6 hits, 2 errors.

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., writes:

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now.

"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

THE LORD GOD PLANTED A GARDEN.

The Lord God planted a garden,
In the first white days of the World
And set there an angel warden,
In a garment of light unfurled.
So near to the peace of Heaven,
The hawk might ebbe with the wren,
For there, in the cool of the Even,
God walked with the first of men.
And I dream that these garden closes,
With their shade and their sun-flecked-sod
And their Lilies and bowers of Roses,
Were laid by the hand of God.
The kiss of the sun for pardon,
The song of the bird for mirth;
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth.

WITH AUNT EMMY

On Signing Papers for Strangers

"Did you hear about the terrible thing that happened to Mrs. Thompson, Aunt Emmy?" asked Maud. "It seems that a man came to see her to ask her to invest in some securities his firm was selling, and she said she did not have any ready money. He asked her if she had some Liberty Bonds, and she showed him her one Liberty Bond, a thousand dollar one. He told her that there were a number of counterfeit bonds about and upon examining her bond said there were some marks that indicated it might be spurious. Poor Mrs. Thompson nearly fainted and begged the stranger to tell her what to do about it.

"He told her not to be unduly alarmed, that there was a chance that he was mistaken. His firm was indignant, he said, about the counterfeit bonds that had been foisted on the public and intended to do everything in its power to run down the culprits. They employed a man who was an authority on counterfeits and he could tell in a minute if her bond was good or not. So Mrs. Thompson let him have the bond to take to his office for examination."

"And, of course, he didn't bring it back," commented Aunt Emmy.

"Worse than that!" Maud went on. "He said that, being a widow, she should be very careful in her business dealings, so he made her sign what he called a receipt, although she didn't read it. About a week after his visit she received a number of shares of stock that she says she never heard of and certainly never bought. So she wrote to the investment house the stock came from and said she thought a mistake had been made. Imagine her surprise when she was informed that she had signed an order for those shares of stock in exchange for a $1,000 Liberty Bond!

"First she was coming right over to see you and then decided not to, because she felt ashamed when she remembered that you had warned her about being taken in, now that Mr. Thompson is dead and she has to handle her own business affairs. My brother Tom says he thinks nothing can be done about it, as the receipt bearing her signature is really an order for the stock."

"I am sorry to hear this, Maud," said Aunt Emmy. "What a pity she did not take her bond to the bank to have it examined if that slick salesman aroused suspicions in her mind as to its genuineness. She would have been dealing with people of integrity, whom she could trust absolutely. And yet she allowed herself to be duped by a perfect stranger!

"Yet there must be a lot of that sort of thing when you consider that over $600,000,000 a year is being taken away from the honest people in the United States by stock swindlers. If the people would only learn to trust the guidance of their financial affairs to their banks and never sign anything they have not read and do not understand, there would be less unhappiness about money matters."—Anne B. Aymes.

NEW ERA FOR AGRICULTURE

New York.—A new era lies ahead for agriculture because it now commands the attention of the business world directed on the prime requirements of better distribution and marketing. President W. C. Gordon of the State Bank Division, American Bankers Association, declares in a recent communication to the thirteen thousand members of the division. He seeks to enlist their interest in the work of improving the marketing of farm products.

"The farmer today finds himself far removed from his consumer-customer by a long line of intermediate agencies, which often leave him in a position of disadvantage as an individual producer," Mr. Gordon says. "It is, therefore, not strange that he should seek to apply to agriculture those principles of production and distribution found successful in industry. His rightful ambition is to make, where feasible, a general application of successful business experience to the marketing of agricultural products. Commanding the best economic thought of the business world, agriculture undoubtedly stands on the threshold of a new era. In lieu of fantastic panaceas, agricultural welfare—which, after all, is the Nation's welfare—has need of a sane, long range program that is at once practical, constructive and economically sound."

He goes on to call attention to the "long view program suggested for agricultural distribution" at Washington by the Agricultural Conference, urging study of it.

The Iowa Fleece and Wool Growers' Association does an annual business of $2,836,259; the Ohio Sheep and Wool Growers, $1,500,000; the Oregon wool growers, $500,000; while the New York, Texas and South Dakota Associations are said to be handling about a quarter of a million dollars' business each.

HOW EXCESSIVE TAXES BLIGHT A NATION'S LIFE

Productive Effort Stops if Government Takes Undue Share of Profits, Says Treasury Official.

WEALTH IN RUSSIA FLED BEFORE THE TAXGATHERER

Men in America Prefer Golf to Giving Fruits of Three Days Work a Week to Income Taxes

The blighting effects of excessive taxation, leading to a nation's economic destruction, are described in the current issue of the American Bankers Association Journal by Garrard B. Winston, Under-secretary of the Treasury. Citing possible effects on the Ford Motor Car Company, he declares that "the value is so large and its ownership so centered it is conceivable that collection of inheritance taxes may check, if not destroy, that unit of policy which has created and expanded that industry and thus prevent its future prosperity. Of what avail, then, is it to any government if it collects one hundred million dollars once in estate taxes and destroys a source of income upon which it can rely for revenue year after year?

"Success of the Ford Company does not mean simply that Mr. Ford and his son have grown wealthy. It means employment of tens of thousands of men and women; that mines, forests, railroads and vessels are brought into use; that the public has received an efficient and inexpensive means of transportation; that the farm is in touch with the city, and the worker with his office." Mr. Winston says in part:

Wealth Flees Oppression

"Upon first impression it might appear that a nation could take all of the earnings of its citizens or all of their property. The Soviet government proposed to appropriate all instrumentalities of trade and commerce. Yet, when the state reached out to grasp this wealth, it disappeared and left nothing but a few tangible objects, such as gold and jewels, which were easily transported to other countries. Wealth in Russia ceased to exist.

"If income tax rates are placed so high that capital in productive business no longer gives a net return commensurate with the risk, capital will go out of productive business, lie idle, go abroad, go into tax-exempt securities, or find other ways of avoiding the tax. If income tax rates are so excessive that a man of ability finds he must work more than three days a week for the government, he will become discouraged and decide that the result is not worth the effort. Less income will be produced and less will be realized from the tax.

"Recently a letter came to the Treasury from a small farmer. He owned a few acres which in 1913 were assessed at $900 and on which a tax of $13 was levied. In 1924 the assessed value increased to $3,200 and the tax to $123, but the farm failed to produce any more. Taxes exceeded the rental value of the land and more than the net earnings of the property were taken by the state. The farm was abandoned and now produces no tax.

"Often there come to notice cases where a particular improvement is not made, or a particular business is not started, because after deducting taxes the risk exceeds the value of the expected return. Men have dropped business, spent their winters in Florida and their summers abroad, because what they are permitted to retain under present tax rates is not worth the labor they must give to acquire it. They prefer golf to the further development of the country.

Unscientific Taxes Destroy a Nation

"Unscientific methods of taxation may actually destroy the very earnings or property which it should be the principal interest of a government to foster. When it reaches the limits of what is known as its taxable capacity, a nation has begun to die. If taxes are raised too high, a country will slowly but surely destroy itself. It will use for daily consumption the seed corn on which its future life depends, and the spirit of initiative and adventure in its people will finally disappear. One or more of three things happen: The quantity of consumption is cut down, which means a lowering of the standard of living; or capital accumulations for extensions, improvements and new undertakings must diminish, resulting in a slowing up of progress and lessening eventually of taxable revenue; or, thirdly, a slackening of effort on the part of the citizen will take place when too large a part of his earnings are taken in taxes.

"The effort in taxation should be to find the tax which will continue to raise money over a period of years. Invariably, with an excessive tax, its yield has fallen off year by year, while each rate reduction is reflected in an increase of taxable income. If the Treasury is to be assured a continuance of revenue, our citizens must prosper. If they are to prosper, the appropriation by the state of their earnings and property must be based upon economically sound principles."

CAMERON FIREMEN ARE GOING TO CISCO MEET

MEN WORKING DAILY FOR CONTESTS—CISCO PREPARES TO ENTERTAIN.

Cameron firemen to compete in the reel and cup races at Cisco on May 12, 13 and 14 are working out daily in runs on the streets here and expect to capture prizes at the coming convention.

The greatest convention ni the history of the State Firemen's Association is in prospect when the firemen assemble in annual Convention in Cisco May 12-13-14th. The heaviest attendance ever is assured due to the restoration of free railroad passes to all delegates. The low excursion rates granted by the roads to all persons not delegates will bring many firemen from a distance and the splendid system of paved highways leading into Cisco will bring heavy attendance from all the surrounding territory. Cisco's fifteen hotels enables the City of the Big Dam to promise adequate housing facilities, and in addition the homes of the city will be thrown open to the visitors to care for the overflow crowds.

A program rich in instruction as well as of great interest has been arranged for the firemen. In addition a lavish program of entertainment has been arranged by Cisco. The largest purses ever hung up in racing events have been offered. In addition an extra racing event has been arranged for the purpose of determining the champion fireman of the state. The strongest competition ever to have entered the racing events is scheduled and new records are expected to be set in each of the events.

Other than the firemen's program, numerou sfeatures of entertainment have been arranged. A mammoth three day rodeo, presenting the star riders of the world will be held. Prizes aggregating Three Thousand Dollars have been offered, and world champions in every branch of the rodeo art will compete. The famous McCarthy string of bronchoes from Chugwater, Wyowing have been secured for the rodeo. In addition several cars of wild Brahma and Mexican steers will be brought in to insure hard competition. Such champions as Paddy Ryan, Chester Byres, Red Sublette, and Mike Hastings will compete. The purses compare favorabyl with those offered by the nations greatest rodeos and the liveliest competition ever saw is assured.

A trip through the great oil fields surrounding Cisco will be extended the visiting firemen. The great gas fields East of Cisco will be visited where gasoline is squeezed from the gas that comes from the wells. West of Cisco are the Putman shallow fields where small men go after oil in a business like may. Water well machines are used and oil is secured from two to four hundred feet. The carbon black plants, the casinghead and absorption plants will all be visited, and the oil business in its entirety will be explained to the visiting delegates.

The great Cisco Dam, the largest hollow-type concrete dam in the world, will be open for the visitors. This great structure is 135 feet high and will impound when the lake fills one of the Southwest's largest lakes. Down into the bowels of the earth through a tunnel in the hollow structure the party will go with the water sixty feet deep over their heads. Then a motor boat ride on the lake and a water carnival at the bathing beach will be extended them during their stay.

A chicken barbecue on the lake shore, with five thousand young chickens barbecued over the coals, will feature the evening of the second day. A street dance will be held at night when several blocks of paving will be roped off and a thousand couples will dance to the music of two bands. In addition dancing will be held at the Country Club, and the golf links will be open to those who play the new national game.

Several stunts to demonstrate the fireman's art and provide thrills to the spectators have been arranged. One of these will demonstrate the leap for life from the roof of a five story building. With the building illuminated to look as if a fire a man will leap from the dizzy height into a life net held by firemen in the street below. The slide for life will be demonstrated from the same building. Numerous manufacturers of fire fighting equipment will be on hand to demonstrate their equipment. One cocern is now negotiating with the view of igniting a big gas well for the purpose of putting it out with his equipment.

Indications are that three thousand firemen will be on hand from all over Texas. From Harlingon a special train will bring the delegates from the Rio Grande Valley. From Texline to the North, Brownsville to the South, and from El Paso to Texarkana firemen are getting ready to come to the big Convention. In Cisco, plans are rapidly being carried out to properly care for the Convention. Those who attend the big meeting will receive impressions that will remain with them for many pears.

"It Ain't Fare"

Cameron, Texas, April 23, 1925.

Dear Ma:

I guess you have got Mr. Perkin's statement of the low grades of the Junor class by now and thunk in your mind that I am not as smart as brother, just because he is an old Senior and I am a little old Junior. But Ma, that ain't fare a bit and I will show you why, for instance just look at the differant in my and brother's questions that Miss Pitts gave us:

1. Make a summary of the following books and tell, why, when, what and how the hero does in each chapter:

a. To Have and To Hold.

Now Ma, yo usee our English teacher, Miss Pitts, thinks that if you ever get anything you can keep it, but taint so cause I made a good grade once and I lost it the very next term.

b. Romeo and Jule-he-ate.

c. Mac—took—a—bath.

But Ma he ain't got muthing on me cause I wentin the river last year.

d. House of seven Gabbles.

I told her we had a house out home where we kept the old turkey Gobblers and there wasent any hero there.

e. David Copperhead.

f. Ben-Her.

See Ma they talk like as if Ben had bean a "her." He aint no "her" heis a "him."

g. Who is your School Master.

I dont know if were right but I said Bud Fisher wuz.

2. Make a cross work puzzle using all the parts of speech that you have used this year.

3. Wright a short theme of 2000 words o nthe advantages of playng hookey.

But Ma as this is a subject that no Junior has given serious thought of so we all failed on it, but I bet brother could have made a thousand on this subject.

4. Quote all of Paridise Lost and give an original sketch illustrating the wonderful region as shown in the book.

5. Make a list of all the things you have learned in Engilsh class and out side of class, giving the date, sources, and description of each event, and also the effect it had on you.

5. Nameall of Shakespeares plays, (b) Quote the first ten lines of every act in each play and also the important lines of each character in the play, telling which character said it and to whom he said it. Notice: Do not leave out any questions and papers must be handed in five minutes before the close of the period Now Ma tehse were the questions for the Juniors and we had to take the exam in 45 minutes.

Te fholowling ae trhe questions for brother:

1. Who wrote Bumious Pilgrims Progress?

2. Quote the first five lines of a partiotic poem, preferabyl Ameirca.

3. Write a short theme of a 150 words on any subject you like.

4. Who discovere dAmeirca in 1492?

5. Who were the people who took part in the French and Indian war?

6. When was the war of 1812 fought? Notice: Omit any one or ones you happen not to know. Papers will be graded according to no. of questions answered and not according to the numbtr asked.

So Ma don't get mad with me when you see hom much better brother made than I did.

Your daughter,
BERNICE REESE.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking only a small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

murder by criticising the Govegnor and donating to the children of the murderer and leave the children of the murdered man in their distress.

"I only mention this to show how fickle public sentiment becomes when they begin to talk about something without a knowledge of the facts.

"The real rule that should govern is not how many pardons have been issued, but the sole question should be what is the reason for the issuance of each pardon.

"According to these critics, who seem to know so much about what the duty of the Governor is, if a man had completed four and one-half years of service on a five year sentence and he should appeal to the Governor that under the law, good conscience and humanity he should be pardoned. The Governor under the rule of these very smart people would have the right to say, "yes, you are entitled to a pardon; the law provides this and consicience demands it; but I am sorry to say that I will have to deny it ,simply because I have already issued 10 pardons this week and I can't pardon you until business slacks up a little."

"So far as I am concerned, I invite the closest inspection of official pardon records. It may be that I have made mistakes and if I have these I will be glad to have my record on each individual case considered on its own merits.

"If this crowd had taken the time to go to the public records instead of criticising me from the twentieth day of January, 1925, when I took office to the twenty-fifth day of April 1925, I have issued 353 pardons proclamations.

"It will not be forgotten that everything the Governor does in the way of a pardon has t obe through an official proclamation. At first glance it might appear to the reasonable mind that this was an unusually large amount of pardons, but if the record is fully investigated it will appear that of these 353 proclamations only 76 were full pardons, and 126 were conditional pardons, 36 were restorations of citizenship. This means that the convict has served his time out in the penitentiary and has gone back home and lived a good life and is able to bring good recommendations from his county upon which he asks that his full rights as a citizen be restored to him. What objection can these critics offer to the action of the Governor in restoring the citizenship of an unfortunate convict?

"It will futher appear that 21 of these pardon proclamations were paroles. This means that the convict has been in the penitentiary and has made good, obeyed the rules and that some good citizen offers to take this convict and employ him in some employment that will be useful and helpful to the convict in bringing about his reformation.

"I want to inform these Methodist ladies from the Panhandle who are condemning me that modern thought along reformation lines unanimously agrees that the idea of paroles is founded upon justice and humanity.

"Again the record will show that these 353 proclamations, 70 were furloughs. Let me show to these people who think I am heartless just how the furlough works. A gray haired mother, perhaps 70 years old, is suddenly stricken in some distant county of the State. The doctors say that it is only a question of a few days when she must pass to the great belond. She has a wayward son in the penitentiary. Perhaps it is her first born and again it may be her baby and in the delirium of her dying moments the impulse of a loving mother goes out to her wayward son and she wants to see him before death shall take her hence. The son in the penitentiary is informed that his mother is dying and he, perhaps with a good record and perhaps serving a sentence for his first offense, wants again to look upon his dear mother's face for the last time and receive from her lips the last admonition to be a good boy and try to live right.

"Oh, you critics, no one but the Governor can relieve this situation, and you may rave and howl to your heart's content and you may criticise me and you may abuse me, but so long as I am Governor I serve notice on you now and forever that no dying mother shall ever plea in vain for a chance to again see the wayward unfortunate son before death shall claim her into eternity.

"Perhaps in many cases these furloughs were granted when children of helpless mothers were needing a little aid and a little comfort—just an opportunity for the unfortunate husband to go home for a few days and see the children and talk it over with the wife, just a little more kindness, just a little more help to make the burden of a penitentiary sentence just a little lighter. Yes, I am going to continue it, no matter who kicks or howls.

"Four of these proclamations were revocations of paroles and furloughs. Out of the great number only four seemed to have abused the privilege.

"Eight of these pardon proclamations were remission of bond forfeitures. These were cases where parties had forfeited the bond but had been caught again, stood trial and were in the penitentiary. To collect the bond in some of these cases would have meant bankruptcy to some of the bondsmen. In such cases I did not think it wrong to remit the bond foreifture after the State had captured the criminal and sent him to the penitentiary.

"Nine of these proclamations were for remission of fines and jail sentences.

"Two of these proclamations were commutation of death sentences. It is an unpleasant duty to have to decide whethter the prisoner shall pay the extreme penalty, and where there is any question of the guilt of the party charged with the commission of the crime I shall always be glad to resolve the question in favor of life instead of death.

"I have been criticised because I have listened to the recommendations of the judges, juries, prosecuting attorneys and county officials in granting these pardons. If the people in a certain county where the defendant was tried and convicted are not qualified to advise the Governor about whether the spirit of pardon and the power of pardon should be exercised, then in the name of common sense who is?

"The power of pardon was given to the Governor not so much to enforce the law as put in the courts. The power to say whether justice has miscarried in the courts is the power put by the Constitution of this State in the breast of the Governor, and it is just as much the duty to act as it is not to act.

"The power was given to the Governor for the purpose of being exericised and I shall not be deterred from performing my duty as God gives me power to see it by these vicious critics who want to condemn me regardless of the facts or the influences which have prompted my action in every case.

One hundred and eighteen of the pardons which I have granted were recommended by the judges, juries and prosecuting attorneys who tried the cases. Eight of the prisoners pardoned had less than 30 days to serve. Nine of them had between 30 and 60 days to serve. Eight had between 60 and 90 days to serve. 24 had between 90 and 180 days to serve and 13 had between 180 and 360 days to serve.

One hundred and forty-seven had served more than half their time. They had short sentences and had good records, and in most of the cases had wives and children at home penniless and dependent upon them for support.

"Ten of the prisoners were pardoned on account of their bad physical condition and in order that the pubilc may know my full intention I want to say now that in the next 30 days I expect to pardon some 50 or 75 prisoners who are now afflicted with consumption and are now in the last stage of tuberculosis. The doctors say that most of them can not live but a short time and I am going to pardon them out and let them die at home among friends.

"Rave on, ye critics, if you think that you can explain your actions to your God.

"Again, I want to repeat that it is not a question of how many pardons were issued but it is the reason for the issuance of each pardon, and I invite the Methodist organizations of the Panhandle who have condemned me and the W. C. T. U. of San Antonio who have condemned me to come to Austin and I will gladly present them the record and reasons which have controlled me in the pardon of the unfortunate conveics."

INFORMING THE PUBLIC ABOUT PHARMACY.

To correct certain impressions that prevailed, more than a thousand retail druggists in Texas started a state-wide advertising campaign to acquaint the pubilc with the facts about the service of the drug store and the pharmacist.

The service of pharmacy is necessary to the public health and the public welfare. The profession of pharmacy is heavy with responsibilities. The person who takes up pharmacy must, like the doctor, attend college for several years and then pass a rigid examination before being allowed to practice.

The pharmacist is at the beck and call of suffering humanity twenty-four hours a day, and he works hand in hand with the physicians in fighting disease and epidemics.The drug store is truly a service station of civilization.

The druggists' campaign is being conducted by the Texas Qualified Druggists' League and each member displays the League Emblem as evidence to the public of his qualifications to render ethical, professional service.

This campaign of the Texas druggists is the biggest thing of its kind ever undertaken by retail merchants in any line anywhere. It is attracting national attention and the Texas druggists are being congratulated on their initiative and enterprise.

CHILTON BOY GETS CHAIR IN HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

Marlin, Texas, April 25.—From his father's farm at Chilton, Falls county, Texas, to a chair in Harvard University, the oldest in the United States, is a far cry, but that is the accomplishment of Charles W. Hackett, son of J. Frank Hackett of Chilton. It has all come about in the last eighteen years.

Young Hackett is a graduate of the Marlin High School, and later received his degree from the University of Texas, and then from Leland Stanford University in California. He subsequently taught in both institutions. For several years he has been adjunct professor in Latin history in the University of Texas. His work in this capacity carried him several times into Mexico and the South American republics. He was elected to a professorship in the University of Mexico, but declined. He recently accepted a chair in history at Harvard, and will begin work in that institution at the end of hte present session of the State University.

ROBERTSON COUNTY WILL AID IN GRAVELED ROAD.

Caldwell, Burleson County, Texas, April 25.—Leading planters of the Brazos bottom section of Robertson county have pledged themselves to build between three and five miles of graveled highway through the river district, following organization during the last week of the Burleson county Chamber of Commerce with headquarters in Caldwell.

This road building by private individuals hinges, however, on the agreement of Burleson county to finance a graveled pike from Caldwell to a junction with the river bottom road.

"The recent organization of the Burleson County Chamber of Commerce," W. N. Coleman, director, said, "is the most progressive step which the merchants and farmers of this county have taken in ten years and should result in great benefit to the entire section of country.
